

From: Jeff Moore
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/10/01 9:34am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

The proposed Microsoft settlement does not sufficiently punish the company for their guilt. There is little or no incremental cost for a software company to give away their own software, especially when that software is given into a market in which their monopoly is the weakest.

The settlement should not involve ANY free products.